PEONIES

It is with a feeling of pride that I again issue this catalogue, for my business has increased each year in volume and I wish to thank my patrons for their patronage and I hope by square dealing to continue to receive it. My aim will always be to send out good stock and true to name.

Away back in 1880 I first commenced the cultivation of the Peony in a small way, purely for the love of the flower. There is certainly something fascinating about it that a lover of flowers cannot resist. I now have over 500 varieties. A great many are the finest in existence, raised and disseminated by such famous growers as Kelway, of England; Lemoine and Dessert, of France; Rosenfield and Brand of our own country.

Peonies have a very extensive range in color, from the purest white to the darkest maroon, with all the tints from a delicate flesh to a beautiful golden hue, light and dark pinks, and various combinations of shades. In size they range from four to eight inches in diameter, some small and dainty, others massive and fluffy as any chrysanthemum, and a great many with a fragrance as charming and delicate as a rose. The modern Peony is certainly a marvel.

SPECIAL OFFER

It has been my custom for some years to offer what I call an introductory collection. One is composed of 10 Peonies and the other of 20 all named. They are all excellent varieties and composed of those I have in large numbers. The catalogue value is much greater than my price. My object in doing this is to get people started in growing the gem among flowers, the Peony. For when one becomes interested in this flower they are sure to be future customers. Try one of these collections and I am sure you will be pleased. They are good, strong roots and many will bloom the first season. Ten fine named Peonies for $2.50, or twenty for $5.00, all different and truly labeled, a chance to obtain a fine collection at half price. With any order of above for $5.00 I will include one plant of Baroness Schroeder, free. I have the largest stock in America of Lady Alexandra Duff (absolutely true) and many other fine varieties. Send for catalogue.

For $ 5.00 you may select plants amounting to $ 6.00

For $10.00 you may select plants amounting to $12.00

For $25.00 you may select plants amounting to $30.00

CULTIVATION

Here is where the Peony has the advantage of most any other flower. Exempt from any insect pest, hardy as any plant that grows, does not need protection in the winter, comes through all right, and grows stronger and more valuable each year. There are some points that should be observed in planting. Do not plant in low, wet soil. Do not use fresh manure in planting. Any good garden soil is all right. It is well incorporated with old manure so much the better. It is best not to have manure come in direct contact with the roots. Do not expect the best results from a Peony the first year after planting, as they have to become established before producing normal flowers. Some varieties producing perfectly double flowers in their normal condition will sometimes come single or semi-double the first season, so do not complain if they do not seem as you think they should be. Plant in an open situation in good, rich soil, having at least two inches of soil on top of the buds. I send out good, strong divisions, with from three to five eyes, guaranteed true to description. In case of error will replace with the true variety or refund the original amount paid.

SHIPMENTS

Will be made any time from September 1st until ground freezes. It is much the best to order early, as the plants have a much better chance to become established before winter.

finest and most perfectly formed pink Peony in existence. $1.00.

MONS. MARTIN CAHUZAC (Dec. 1899). Large, well formed flower, with rounded petals, of a very brilliant purple-red, shaded black maroon with metallic reflex, tall erect habit; a glaring color; the darkest of all; very handsome variety. $4.00.

center, a rare and indescribable shade of fleshy white with a salmon center, passing to white shaded soft flesh; a charming color of remarkable freshness. $8.

THERESE (Dessert, 1904). Rose type; midseason. This is a queen amongst queens, a veritable belle. One enthusiast remarked that "There might be any number of regal beauties at court, but there could only be one belle, and 'Therese' was her name." One cannot say too much in praise of this variety. It might best be described as a glorified Claire Dubois. Color rich satiny-pink, with glossy reflex of enormous size. $5.00.

TOURANGELLE (Dessert, 1910). Delicate rose color with salmon tints; very pleasing shade; midseason. Extra. $7.00.

Brand's Peonies

ARCHIE BRAND (1913). Prize Peony. An even, deep, seashell pink with silvery border. The petals, closely massed, form a solid head which is surrounded by broad drooping guard petals. An immense flower of the bomb type. There is a charm about this flower in its even, uniform color and from peculiar perfection of its form which attracts the eye from a long distance. Midseason, medium height, profuse bloomer. One of the very best of the Brand Peonies. One of the chief attractions about it is its delicate fragrance which closely resembles that of the rose. We believe it has a stronger, truer rose scent than any other pink variety. This delightful fragrance, added to the charming beauty and grace of the flower, makes this variety especially fine for cut blossoms. It rivals the rose in fragrance and in beauty and far surpasses it in size. It is in a class by itself. $7.50.

CHESTINE GOWDY (1913). Prize Peony. A striking specimen of the cone-shaped peony. The broad, outer petals are silvery pink. These enclose a zone of fine irregularly shaped, closely set petals of deep, rich cream which in turn surround a prominent cone of broad, pink petals splashed and tipped with crimson. The perfection of its form and its rich and delicately varied coloring have repeatedly caused it be singled out for special admiration from a group of the finest varieties. The stems are long, slender, and strong, bearing a single flower. The flower is of good substance and when cut just as the bud is bursting this variety makes one of our best cut flowers. Medium late. It has a delightful fragrance, penetrating, lasting and sweet. A vase filled with them would perfume a large drawing-room with its delightful odor. $5.00.

ELIZABETH BARRETT BROWNING (1907). Prize Peony. Very late, foliage strikingly large and glossy; a tall commanding white, equalled by none of its color. When first opening the faintest blush of the soft sea-shell pink, lower side of guard petals splashed with dark crimson and green. First row of guard petals $1\frac{1}{2}$ to $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches long, five to six rows of large, long petals interspersed with smaller ones, crimson markings on upper edges and sometimes on side of larger petals inside of cup which is broad, often 6 to 7 inches across, crimson stripes seen from lower side, corolla loosely full. A pure white of the most attractive form and quality. When in bud, of astonishingly great, cosmic grandeur and unfolding loveliness. One of the most delightfully fragrant peonies ever created. The delicate shadings of color of the opening bloom in this wonderful flower is frequently referred to as the primrose tint, but that conveys only an imperfect conception. It more closely resembles the alternating glow and shimmer of the early morning pink and red preceding aurora. Every collection of peonies which does not have an Elizabeth Barrett Browning, may be likened to a hive of bees without a queen. It is the Queen of Peonies. \$25.00.

JUDGE BERRY (1907). Prize Peony. Large to very large, opening back, flat, semi-rose type. The bud opens pink, the petals open farther and farther back until it becomes a great flat disk of variegated pink and white bloom of surpassing beauty, seven to eight inches in diameter. Ground color white, washed with a soft delicate pink. Petals narrow, long and fringed with some stamens intermingled. Medium tall, very profuse bloomer, and always good. Very early and possesses a very delicate though charming fragrance. This flower is the best of its season, such a great mass of loveliness at the very beginning of the peony season, when most of the other varieties are apt to be medium or small, which makes it stand out very distinct and adds much to its desirability. It is singly attractive on the lawn, and where a massive effect is desired for interior decoration, it is simply superb. $10.00.

LONGFELLOW (1907). Prize Peony. A bright crimson with a cherry tone. Perhaps the most brilliant of all the red peonies. A circle of golden stamens surrounds the central mass of petals, while the outer petals are slightly reflexed. Its erect habit, vivid color and long season give it rare value either for home grounds or for landscape gardening in a larger scale. A fine companion for Frances Willard. Of equal height and blooming at the same time, they form a beautiful contrast. This is the most brilliant peony in our whole list. $10.00.

LORA DEXHEIMER (1913). Prize Peony. Immense, cylindrical, semi-rose. Intense flaming crimson, shading darker at base of petals. Medium height, stiff stems holding but a single bloom, rigidly erect. Prodigious bloomer. Early. A splendid peony of the same flat type as Trompette de l'Ex. de Lille, so hard to find in this color. The splendid habit and bright color of this variety have marked it with us as of exceptional merit. Each succeeding year has but added to our good opinion of it. Of the first class. $5.00.

LOUISA BRAND (1913). Medium sized, deep cone-shaped bloom, semi-rose type. Color an exquisite bluish white fading to white. The blossom as it opens resembles a beautiful white water-lily. The center, surrounded by broad drooping guard petals, gradually rises, the petals expand and the blossom becomes a tall delicate cone of glistening pink petals intermingled with golden stamens. A visitor from a distance to our gardens, a lover of the peony, looking over the new varieties, when he reached this sort, said: "There is something wonderful! It has well paid me for my trip." Later mid-

MARTHA BULLOCH (1907). Prize Peony. Mammoth cup-shaped blossom often 9 to 12 inches across. The largest of the good peonies. Deep rose-pink in the center, shading to silvery shell-pink in the outer petals. Stalk strong and erect. The most striking and distinct of all Brand seedlings. The delicate shadings of this wonderful flower, from soft shell-pink on the outside to a deep rose-pink in the center, may be imagined but can never be described. The plant itself seems to realize the beauty of its flowers since it puts forth a strong, stiff stem which supports these mammoth blossoms proudly above the foliage as if to say to the floral world: "Match me if you can." It surpasses everything of its color for landscape purposes. This, unlike most large peonies, is a fine and delicate structure with a strong and agreeable fragrance which makes it most desirable and effective as a cut flower. $25.00.

MARY BRAND (1907). Prize Peony. A vivid crimson with a silky sheen that gives it a wonderful brilliance. The golden stamens are scattered through the center of irregularly fringed petals. The description of a single flower gives but a slight idea of the beauty of the growing plant. The single flowers are often immense, while many of the strong stems bear three or four large blossoms. The plant, which is of medium height, is often a mass of crimson bloom. Probably the best dark red peony in cultivation, for lasting effects as a cut flower as we have in the garden. Not quite so bright in color as Longfellow but a much larger bloomer. Midseason. Its fragrance is also delightful and charming. $7.50.

MIDNIGHT (1907). "The Black Peony." Large, loose, semi-rose, deep maroon, plume-shaped flower. Large flower borne on long, stiff stems. Beautiful in mass or in contrast. Magnificent cutting variety. Medium early, just before Longfellow. It is a question as to which is the better peony, Midnight or Prince of Darkness. Midnight is a trifle the larger and when grown side by side shows darker. But both should be in every good collection. Two magnificent varieties. $3.00.

PRINCE OF DARKNESS (1907). Large, loose, semi-rose. A rich, dark maroon peony of the typical rose shape. One of the very darkest peonies in cultivation. Petals slightly fringed with dark shadings on the edges. Opens early and lasts long. Free bloomer. Excellent for landscape effect and for cutting. $2.00.

RICHARD CARVEL (1913). Immense globular bomb; flower bright, all one shade of crimson; guard petals large, broad and prominent; center petals gathered into an immense central dome. Early, tall, very stout stems, annual and profuse bloomer. What Mons. Jules Elie is to pinks, this variety is to the early crimson. One of the earliest to bloom of the Albiflora species. On account of its extra early blooming qualities, its large size and blending colors, this variety has already become a well established favorite. The demand is increasing from year to year. A single plant on the lawn is attractive and delightful. It is beautiful and lasting, and, on account of its delicate fragrance, is valuable as a cut flower. The best of all early dark reds. $5.00.

RUTH BRAND (1907). Very large, compact bomb. Guard petals prominent, enclosing a grand ball of compact center petals. A uniform, soft lavender-pink, splashed with deeper lavender. Tall stems, fine, graceful and strong, holding but a single bloom. Midseason. Very beautiful in bud. A splendid variety to cut. Has a delicate and pleasing fragrance. $2.50.

Kelway, of England, has produced some very fine varieties, such as Baroness Schroeder, James Kelway, Lady Alexandra Duff, and various other sorts.

ALBIFLORA, THE BRIDE (Syn. La Fiancee) (Des. 1902); also Snowflake (Kel.). Very large; pure white. Tall, vigorous grower, free bloomer, very early. Finest single white. Distinct from the primitive species Albiflora, being the taller grower, much larger, finer flower. Identical with the single white sent out by Dessert as La Fiancee. However, to retain the name The Bride, to avoid confusion with the double white variety originated by Lemoine in 1898. $2.00.
